Economic NATO Pondered

U.S. to Block Red Trade?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposed "economic NATO" is reported getting support in some quarters of the Eisenhower administration.

The proposal would have the economic group set up by North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries to bolster Western defences against Soviet economic pressures. Its purpose would be to tighten trade restrictions with the Communist bloc.

The proposal would halt, if not reverse, the cautious relaxing of export curbs on shipments to the Soviets.

One official said the aim would be to tighten the existing loose and voluntary arrangements by which the Western countries to collaborate on export curbs. A 15-nation coordinating committee provided a forum for agreement on preventing shipment of war-potential goods to Iron Curtain countries.

The plan was described as a device by which Western countries could be committed to hold a common position and presumably give to their export policies the force of treaties.

Genes Modified by 'Partner'

Kernels Challenge Genetics Theory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Science Foundation says research on corn has turned up evidence challenging the accepted theory that genes retain their idividuality from generation through generation.

Genes are elements in cells by which hereditary characteristics are transmitted in people, animals and plants.

Recent findings, the foundation says in its annual report, "may well turn out to be among the most significant basic discoveries in genetics."

Prof. R. Alexander Brink of the University of Wisconsin conducted the research on a gene in corn that produces color in kernel. His project demonstrated that the gene could be permanently modified by combining it with a partner gene.

The scientific axiom of individuality in genes has been accepted for almost a century as basic to all research in modern genetics.

Costlier By PGE

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Hart Highway is making it tough for the provincially-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway, recently completed into the Peace River, the B.C. Institute of Agrologists learned here.

Walter Burns, director of Prince George experimental farm, told the group's annual meeting Friday that a "carload" of grain he ordered from Fort St. John "arrived in two big transport trucks."

When asked why trucks were used, the grain dealer said it was cheaper, Mr. Burns related. Truck transports saved two handlings of the grain—to elevator from farm, and to farm from railway yard.

Dr. Hugh Nicholson, Kamloops ranger experimental station, saw little likelihood of Peace River grain being transported to his area by PGE.

With a recent increase in railway freight rates, Mr. Nicholson said, the use of Peace River grain by Cariboo cattlemen will "probably be restricted to those who are located at railside."

January proved a busier month this year than last year for the Victoria Clearing House. Total of cheques exchanged was $39,581,442 against $38,430,106 in the previous January.

Report to Ontario Legislature

Stiff Labor Code Urged

TORONTO (CP)—New restrictions for labor unions are among 51 changes in Ontario's labor law urged by a committee of the provincial legislature.

The recommendations were in a 62-page report tabled in the legislature by its 11-man select committee on labor relations, appointed at the 1957 session.

The report urged regulation of union pension and welfare funds, a modified right-to-work law, new restrictions on picketing, limits on union trusteeship, a ban on work stoppages in essential services and higher requirements for union certification.

There was no indication of whether the Progressive Conservative government plans to implement any of the recommendations this season.

"What is needed is less reliance on government in collective bargaining and more self-reliance by the parties."

The committee, headed by recently-appointed Mines Minister James Maloney, was appointed to review the Ontario Labor Relations Act which was passed in 1950 on a foundation of legislation dating back to 1943.

Constable Must Pay Damages

VANCOUVER (CP) — An RCMP constable Monday was ordered by the British Columbia Supreme Court to pay $150 damages for falsely imprisoning Oddleif Garthus, a salesman at Port Alberni on Vancouver Island.

Mr. Justice A. E. Lord made the order against Constables A. H. Van Caeseele of the Port Alberni RCMP detachment, and dismissed a claim for damages for alleged malicious prosecution.

Garthus was arrested Sept. 21, 1955, following complaints that a man had been molesting girls in a Port Alberni elementary school. He was acquitted of a charge laid in police court.

Spring Election Seen in Alberta

EDMONTON (CP) — The government's five-year development program likely will be the biggest single item of business at the fifth session of the 13th Alberta legislature which opens Thursday.

A general election is expected to be called this year, but there is speculation that Premier E. C. Manning may call a snap election for early spring if a major battle develops in the House over the five-year plan.

The premier might seek a new mandate on the strength of the development program although an election is not mandatory until next year. Alberta's last election was in 1955.

The legislature is expected to establish a separate labor department and appoint a labor minister. The department of industries and labor now is handled by one minister.

Amendments are expected to the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act, increasing speed limits to 65 miles an hour on four-lane and divided highways. The present limit is 60.

The session will see budget appropriations for a start on the first "special project" in the five-year plan. This year the government will start building 54 homes for the aged throughout the province at an estimated cost of $16,000,000.

The special projects—one each year for the next five years—will be financed in part from money which would have gone toward oil and gas royalty dividends. The two-year-old dividend plan has been suspended for the duration of the five-year plan.

More Sun, Rain in January

Weather Forecast: Normal February

Southern Vancouver Island will have above normal temperatures and moderate precipitation during February, the U.S. weather bureau long-range forecast predicts.

During January, there was 73.6 hours of sunshine, four more than the mean measured during the last 45 years, reports weatherman Bill Mackie.

Although January was warm, it was not as sunny as the record 138.1 hours measured in January, 1930.

Precipitation was up for the month, measuring 5.05 inches, of which 4.54 inches was rain and .51 inches of snow. Mr. Mackie said there was more rain and less snow than records show for previous Januarys.

Maximum temperature was 54 on Jan. 8 with the low of 15 five days before. Mean high was 43.9 with a low of 36.6, both higher and lower than normal.

Mean temperature for the month was 40.2, compared with 39.1 average for the last 60 years. Last January set an all-time record with a mean monthly temperature of 44.5 degrees, the highest in 59 years.

B.C. Halibut Season Set to Open May 1

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bering Sea halibut fishermen will be heading out to sea late in March this year to start trolling their lines April 1.

Along the rest of the coast, in the Gulf of Alaska and in deep blue waters off B.C., the halibut season gets underway May 1.

The regulations were set by the International Pacific Halibut Commission which met in Seattle last week to discuss the halibut fishery with fishermen and industry.

Catch off the B.C. coast has been limited to 26.5 tons during the first open season.

The season will open again Aug. 22 for seven days without catch limit.

Giant Mascot Mines Lost $35,243 in 1958

VANCOUVER (CP)—Giant Mascot Mines Ltd., which started producing barite from tailings at its Spillimacheen, B.C., lead mine last year, had a net lose of $35,243 in the fiscal year ended last Sept. 30.

Production of barite, used principally in oil well drilling was stopped in December when fire destroyed an $85,000 drying and bagging plant at Spillimacheen, at the junction of Columbia and Spillimacheen Rivers.

Rebuilding is expected to start in March.

The treatment of Eczema

Outstanding results in many countries

Throughout the world, many thousands of people who had long suffered from Eczema and other skin troubles have found relief thanks to the remarkable development by Swiss chemists.

Since these chemists were able to process a natural remedy extracted from pure vegetable oils, it has been possible to treat with success many of the most obstinate cases of Eczema, Leg Ulcers, Furunculosis (boils) as well as Infantile Eczema.

"F99" is so easily assimilated by the body that it can even be given to infants.

Thanks to the outstanding results obtained with "F99" these preparations have gained, in only a few years, a solid reputation throughout the world. The "F99" preparations are now available in drug stores in more than 65 countries from Iceland to the Argentine and from Canada to India. In all these countries "F99" is being used with remarkable results even in cases where all ordinary treatments have failed.

Two-way treatment

In cases of Eczema, Furunculosis, Leg Ulcers and Infantile Eczema ask for the "F99" two-way treatment in drug stores:

Internal treatment: Take one "F99" Capsule daily to help suppress the underlying cause of the complaint by means of the blood stream.

For children use the "F99" Liquid instead of the Capsules.

External treatment: Apply daily the "F99" Ointment which penetrates the affected skin from the outside.
